DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Species B (figure 2 and claims 1, 4-6, 19-23, 25-30, 33-37, 39-40, 43-50 in the reply filed on 4/16/06 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 2-3, 7-18, 24, 31-32, 38, 41-42 are withdrawn from further consideration (and upon further review by the examiner claims 37 and 48-50 are also withdrawn because they are not directed towards Species b (figure 2) pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 3738

4. Claims 1, 4-6, 19-22, 25-30, 33-37, 39-40, and 44-47 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Stack et al. 2004/0117031. Stack et al. discloses the invention as claimed comprising: A device for treatment of obesity with an annular element (12) having a relatively large outer boundary (18) and a relatively small inner boundary (24); an elongated flexible tube (sleeve 14) extending between a proximal end and a distal end wherein the tube defines a central lumen (28a) within the tube; wherein the proximal end of the tube is connected to the small inner boundary of the annular element and forms a continuous passageway through a region interior to the small inner boundary. The intended use recitation/functional language "wherein the large outer boundary of the annular element is adapted to be attached to an inner wall of a stomach of a patient such that the annular element divides the stomach into two chambers, an esophagus-end chamber close to the esophagus and a pylorus-end chamber close to a pylorus of a patient and wherein the esophagus-end chamber is in fluid communication with the lumen of the tube" carries no patentable weight in the absence of any distinguishing structure. Stack et al. clearly discloses the structure as claimed and is found to be inherently capable of performing the functions. See [0027 for "funnel-shaped" and other shapes of element 12; 0029-31 for flexible 14 materials of the tube/sleeve and the annular element 12; 0041 for clips, sutures and adhesives for attachment mechanisms.]

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 23 and 43 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
